During the high winds, Friday morning, a two story brick building being erected on Fifth street and Sixth avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., was blown down. The adjoining building was a one story brick structure occupied by an Italian shoemaker, his wife, a daughter of fourteen years and a child four weeks old. All rushed for the doorway, but just as the daughter reached it she was crushed by the mass of falling brick, and died on the way to the hospital. The other occupants escaped with their lives, but with severe bruises, and in some cases with broken bones.

culture we are soon to have started a Orono. Before calling their school day over, they want to round off their hom schooling with a term spent in the study of those branches especially related to the business which it is proposed to follow Now-a-days a farmer needs to know hi milk alone unless when quite young. This holds true at any season of the year, and has especial force in the winter season There is too much water in it in proportion to the solids for the best results. Middlings to the solids for the ocearresults. Middlings or linseed meal and in cold weather measure of corn meal should go with the milk for the most economic results. It takes good practice in feeding to make a profit in feeding pigs at present low prices Thomas Daggett, President of the State Board of Agriculture, Foxeroft, has sold a Percheron stallion, sired by White Cloud to F. M. Thompson, Machias. This borse was bred by Mr. Daggett, is six years old and weighs 1600 pounds, and is a flue spec imen of this valuable all-around breed His stock has proved valuable. This horse has gone into a section that will appreciate value, and where he cannot fail of making a mark. There is room for lots of this kind of stock in the State, and we ought to raise them here instead of purchase ng from abroad. Prof. Balentine of the chair of agriculture at the State College, who is one of the committee having in charge the shaping of the course of study in the proposed short se in agriculture, is about to make s trip West for the purpose of studying up the success and taking observations on the work of other State Colleges where this system of instruction in agriculture has been established. He will visit Michigan Wisconsin, Minnesota, and probably Guelph, Canada. This is a step in the right direction. Most certainly the experience of other institutions should be drawn upon to aid in shaping the course of instruction here in a way to reach the best Guernsey stock is making its beadway in our State. B. W. McKeen, Fryeburg member of the State Board of Agriculture has recently bought of Nathan Dane Wonder-Brook Farm, Kennebunk, the Guernsey bull Pops Jeweller 1935, bred by Mr. Dane, calved May 1, 1888, sire Lily's Jeweller 530, dam Pops Sweetheart 2298, bred by J. D. W. French, North Andover Mass. Color is bright orange, slightly broken with white; skin high color. This buil is large, and in all respects a fine rep-resentative of the breed. F. S. Adams, the member of the board for Sagadahoc, has also bought a bull of this breed of the same party, six months old, and promising to be a good one. Mr. Dane writes he has sold still another of the breed, but the purchaser is not named. We are glad to learn of the introduction of this blood into dairy herds in the State, and believe it will

The State Grange which closed its anmade up of an assemblage of intelligent men on in a manner reflecting much credit on their business capacity. There was but on education published elsewhere in this ceived a large measure of attention and the spirit of justice and equality which seemed qualified for any question of political economy. It was a credit to the Grange that ired present, in a vote taken by rising, was found on his feet in favor of the action. Money was freely voted with which to push the work. Evidently in this matter of taxation the farmers mean business. In the work of strengthening and building up the order in this State and increasing tsefficiency by perfecting the organization, there was much good work done. Every evidence goes to show that the order already a power in the State, is sure to go on to a still more efficient usefulness. State Master Prince is proving an able the members.
